PENSION OFFICE,

Nov. 5, 1864.

SIR:

In the case of Isabel L. McBride, No. 18,124, the official evidence of the soldier's death is incomplete. It is therefore necessary that a certificate should be procured, if possible, from his Surgeon, or from some other commissioned officer having personal knowledge of the facts, stating when, where, and under what circumstances the injury was received, or the disease contracted, which was the cause of the soldier's death, giving the name and character of the disease, and date of death. If it be shown that the certificate of a commissioned officer now in actual service cannot be obtained, the facts may be proved by the affidavits of other persons having the requisite knowledge.

If the soldier was attended in his last illness by a civil Surgeon or Physician, the affidavit of such Surgeon or Physician, showing the character of the disease, or injury, and date of death, must be furnished, in addition to the proof by certificate, or affidavit, as to the origin of the disease, or injury, above required.

The credibility and professional standing of the civil Surgeon or Physician must be certified.

Respectfully, yours,

Joseph H. Barrett

Commissioner.

THE DEATH OF THERE DA. MARY

(Newspaper clipping)

Angola, Steuben Co. March 4, 1863

Dear Bro. Goodwin: It becomes my painful duty to record the death of our beloved brother, DAVID A. McBRIDE, who died Jan. 19th, 1863, on the steamer Die Vernon, on the Mississippi river, aged 30 years, 5 months and 27 days. He obeyed the gospel in the fall of 1849, united with the Church at Revena, Portage Co. Ohio; removed to DeKalb co., Ind., the same fall, where he has held his membership ever since. He was also chosen by the brethren as Deacon of the Church, in the place where he lived, and was faithful to his trust. He was drafted the 6th of Oct. last, went to Indianapolis, and volunteered to serve 12 months in the 54th regiment Ind. Vols. May the God of all grace have mercy on his dear companion and two dear children that he leaves to mourn his loss, and on his aged father and mother, who are left to mourn the loss of a dear son. But they need not mourn as those that have no hope, but with the assurance that he shall rise in the last day to walk the golden streets of the New Jerusalem, to sing the song that angels cannot sing--redeemed by the blood of Christ.

OBITUARY

Rachel Samantha Shatto, daughter of John and Margaret Leonard Shatto, was born August 10, 1834, in Deerfield township, Portage county, Ohio. She lived there about five years, then moved with her parents to Pennsylvania, Mercer county, and lived there one year. She then moved to Trumbull county, Ohio, and lived there two years. Then to Stark county, Ohio and lived there six years and from there she with her parents moved to DeKalb county, Indiana, in 1850, and made their home near Cedar Lake. On Oct. 5, 1851, she was married to David A. McBride, with whom she lived until the breaking out of the civil war when the husband was called to fight for his country, from which he never returned alive. She also did what she could for her country in the way of furnishing the sanitary department at Waterloo, a great amount of articles such as bandages, pillows, etc., for the sick and deserving soldiers. To these two there were born two children, Emma L. and Mary L., the latter having died at the age of eight years. She was married the second time to Frederick Harnes on Dec. 25, 1864, with whom she lived until his death which occurred Oct. 21, 1886. To this union was born one child, Eva M., with whom she was living at the time of her death. She leaves to mourn her departure two children, namely Mrs. Emma L. Brugh, of Traverse City, Mich., and Mrs. Eva M. Triplett of Auburn, Ind. A step-son, Joel E. Harnes, of Prairie City, Ia., also a step-grandson, whom she raised from infancy and who was loved by her as her own son; also eleven grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren; one brother, Henry Shatto, of Mentone, Ind., and three sisters—Mrs. Loretta Sloan of Iola, Kan.; Mrs. Harriet Baxter of Plymouth, Ind.; and Mrs. Lavina Cole of near Warsaw, Ind.; besides a host of neighbors and friends who join in sympathy with the family.

The subject of this sketch was baptized when a young girl by Father Hadsell and united with the Church of Christ, and has been a faithful Christian all these years. Nothing kept her from church or Sunday school except some reason she could give her Saviour. On Oct. 21, 1908, she broke up housekeeping on account of the infirmities of old age and went to live with her granddaughter, Mrs. Purd High, of near Hudson, Ind., with whom she lived about eighteen months. On Dec. 29, 1910, she went to live with her daughter, where she died Nov. 15, 1912, at the age of 78 years, 3 months and 5 days. Her heart was always with the church at Cedar Lake and her old home near Cedar Lake, where she had lived for over thirty years. She has been a faithful worshipper at the Stroh school house and although at first the faces there were all strange she soon made many warm friends. Her death was due to an accident from falling down cellar, in which she was very painfully injured. All was done that human hands could do but to no avail. She was ready and willing and wanted to go home, and expressed herself many times by saying that if it was God's will she was ready. She was very patient during her intense suffering. She has been a resident of DeKalb county for over sixty years, and though her life work is done, her influence will still go on and we know that she is now where there is no more sorrow or pain or homesickness or trouble of any kind. God grant that we may live as near to our Saviour as she did to hers. A short service was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eva Triplett, Sunday morning at 9 a. m. Then her friends followed her body to her old home church at Cedar Lake, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. W. Shepard of Ashley, assisted by Rev. Nickerson of Auburn and Rev. Thomas, pastor at Cedar Lake. She was buried at Cedar Lake cemetery.

Maria McBride

Mrs. Joel THOMPSON of Waterloo, Ind. says: "My grandmother, Mary SMITH was prompt and methodical in all things. In common with nearly everyone she worked up wool and flax clothe her family. She would commence the work as soon as the sheep were sheared in the spring, and before winter the wool would be made into blankets and clothing for her family, with extra for possible needy ones. Her life was filled with a continuous round of home duty and can only be of interest from a historical standpoint since it is representative of the lives hundreds and thousands of noble women who laid the firm foundation for the beautiful superstructure which the women of today are raising 14 "My mother, Samantha SMITH" (Mrs. Richard MCBRIDE), continues Mrs. THOMPSON, "had for a pet a young deer which she kept for some time, but it became so mischievous that grandfather was obliged to kill it.

"The school mother attended was, I think, the second one opened in the village and was taught by Miss Achsah EGGLESTON of Aurora. The building was a tiny log cabin with oiled paper for windows. Turkey quills supplied the pens, and puncheon boards laid on pegs in the wall were used for desks.

"Within a few years after her marriage to Richard MCBRIDE they moved to Indiana where they spent the remainder of their lives."

In the year 1812 Mrs. (Gen.) Samuel D. HARRIS, Sr. (Lucy S. KENT) came on horseback from her home in Middletown, Conn., carrying her baby Lucia in her arms. Mrs. HARRIS was not only intellectual and cultured, but was also an expert needle woman. One triumph of her skill was the making for her husband of one dozen ruffled cambric shirts with one needle. A specimen of her work which is still in the family is a table cloth of fine, beautiful linen.

Her daughter Lucia grew to womanhood in Ravenna, and was married to John GILLIS of the firm of Gillis & Prentiss. Those who knew Mrs. GILLIS remember her as a beautiful woman. She was especially fond of music and art, poetry and flowers. During her life she made a valuable collection of gems of poetry. Only one of her seven children is now living in Ravenna, Mrs. (Judge) Geo. F. ROBINSON.

Mrs. S.D. HARRIS, Jr. (Joanna DOTY) came from Sharon, Conn. In 1837 and is still living in this place, a beautiful example of loving, cheerful devotion to husband, family and friends. Her love of flowers and her success in their culture is only one of her many charming traits of character.

In 1811 Miss Pamela LEWIS, a native of Farmington, Conn. Was married to Zenas KENT. The father of Miss LEWIS was a Revolutionary veteran and also a carpenter and joiner, as were also both her husband and his father.

Mrs. KENT was a charming woman and one who possessed rare tact in the management of household and family affairs. She was mother of thirteen children, ten of whom lived to maturity and are known as men and women of spotless integrity.

The eldest daughter, Harriet KENT, married Charles CLAPP, then a merchant of Ravenna. Some years after their marriage, Mr. CLAPP becoming convinced that the Shaker faith was only right one, made suitable provision for his wife and family, and joining that peculiar sect

Moses put him up his cabin, and was so well pleased as 100 acres of land and moved in the following 100 acres in Trumbull at the time he and Carter's year, 1807, Howard Fuller, the father-in-law of the man, moved in, Fuller buying Jotham Blakeley's of Carter's land.

The old grist-mill was run by a mill had been erected by McWhorter in 1802. The e was nearly one hundred and two years old. The rk, and a sort of bark canopy, upheld by crotched by Henry Aungst, in August, 1814, and Robert Campbell, who returned from the war sick and died shortly afterward. He was the last one buried in this grave-ard, and a singular circumstance is connected therewith: The grave-digger dug the grave so that the head lay to the east, but as it was so constructed they would not alter it when the funeral took place. This circumstance served to identify his grave many years afterward, when his relatives sought the spot for the purpose of interring the remains and removing them to Campbellsport. Cobble-stones only being placed at the heads of the graves, and no inscriptions, the remains of Campbell could never have been selected from out the others, had the corpse been laid in the usual manner, with head to the west.

The present cemetery was laid off in part in 1813, a plat of land being donated for that purpose by Howard Fuller, Erastus Carter, Moses Smith and Anson Bee-man. Fuller made the suggestion of laying out another cemetery, as the one in the village plat seemed to him to be too close to the daily walks of man. Sluman Smith, a lad of seventeen, son of Moses Smith, was the first person buried in this cemetery. He died June 9, 1813. His grave, being the first in the new ground, was of universal interest, it standing alone for some time. In 1815 Zenas Carter was drowned in Muddy Lake, one-half mile south of Ravenna, and was among the first buried in the new cemetery. Carter and Grear, both heavy men, were trying the floating qualities of a new dug-out canoe, when the vessel capsized, and as Carter could not swim, he sank to the bottom and was drowned.

In 1809 David Jennings, Sr., Erastus Carter and Moses Smith erected a log-schoolhouse about opposite where the residence of the late Mrs. Lois Judd afterward stood, and they engaged Miss Achsah Eggleston, of Aurora, to teach the children of the three families mentioned. Her scholars were eight in number: Daniel and David Jennings, Howard, Ruthalia and Lois Carter, and Samantha and Lucina Smith. Ruthalia Carter married Howard Judd, Lois married Lester Judd, Samantha Smith married Richard McBride, and Lucina married Charles Judd. The teacher married Mr. Kent. Miss Eggleston was very tall and stately, and the door of the little schoolhouse was very low, so that, when she entered it for the first time, stooping, she remarked to the proprietors, "I see you have built this for small people, so I will have to bring myself down to their level, or them up to mine, which?" "Up to yours, Miss Eggleston, and we will be satisfied," was the gallant reply. Of all those interested in that school, fathers, mothers, teacher and scholars, there are but two living: Mrs. Lucina Judd, aged eighty-seven, and Howard Carter, aged eighty-four. This school being a success, others wished to share in its benefits, and accordingly a meeting was held which resulted in enlarging the attendance, at the same time deciding by vote that grammar and geography were unnecessary studies. Another school was taught in the unfinished Court House some time during 1810 or 1811, by Thaddeus Bradley.

In 1814, when Maj. Stephen Mason was Sheriff, he taught a school in a room in the Court House, and when he was off on official business the school was closed. The Major was a man of very versatile talents, and peculiarly well adapted to the times, for in addition to filling one of the highest offices in the county, he could "train" as a Major of Militia, and teach the youth.

The school statistics for 1884 are as follows: Ravenna Township schools—revenue in 1884, $4,451; expenditures, $3,334; nine schoolhouses, valued at $8,000; average pay of teachers, $36 and $27; enrollment, 162 boys and 126 girls. Ravenna Village schools—revenue in 1884, $27,047; expenditures, $20,161; three schoolhouses valued at $50,000; average pay of teachers, $79 and $72; enrollment, 346 boys and 408 girls; number of teachers employed, 15.

In 1810 William and John Tappan completed the building of first Court House and Jail. During this year a number of boys playing ball around the new Court House, discovered a fine buck in the underbrush, when all hands, headed by David Greer, surrounded the deer and captured him alive—the last deer caught or killed on the town plat.

Betsey TROWBRIDGE was born in Franklin County, Mass. In January 1785. In 1807 she was united in marriage with Joseph TORRY. In 1816 they with their young family left their native hills and came to Ravenna. She endeavored, in spite of difficulties to give her children all possible advantages of education and refinement that could be obtained. She was well informed on current events, and having a fine memory, could have given a good history of Ravenna during nearly seventy years of its growth.

To show how well her mind was preserved, we will by permission, give an extract from a letter to a friend written soon after the death of his wife. Mrs. TORRY was then ninety-eight years old. After expressing deep sympathy for him in the loss of so dear a friend, she says, "After severe suffering she has left her frail casket; her mortal has put on immortality, she has bade her friends and all the glittering toys of earth adieu, and has ascended up through the ethereal blue to mansions of the blest."

The winter before Mrs. TORRY's death, which occurred in Cleveland at the age of ninety-nine years, she cut and sewed rags enough to make a carpet, which shows that she was physically well as mentally vigorous.

Hannah TAYLOR was born in Franklin County, Mass. In 1788. Her parents moved to Phelps N.Y., where in 1810 she was married to James T. TROWBRIDGE. In 1833 they came to Ravenna with their family. She was a domestic woman, seldom leaving home, but her friends were warmly welcomed to her own fireside. Her three daughters lie in Maple Grove cemetery: Adaline, unmarried, Mrs. Wm. BOND and Mrs. Samuel BLOOMER.

Sally BLAKELY was born in Genoa, N.Y. in January, 1797. She was married to Daniel TROWBRIDGE in Phelps, N.Y. in 1818, and they in 1833 removed with their family of eight children to Ravenna. To them were born in Ohio three more children and only one of the eight daughters and three sons is now living in Ravenna. This daughter, Mrs. A.J. JENNINGS is residing on the farm where she and her husband first went to housekeeping, the farm on which Mr. JENNINGS was born. Mrs. JENNINGS wields a very facile pen and has kindly furnished the items for the JENNINGS, TROWBRIDGE and RAWSON families.

Four daughters of Mrs. TROWBRIDGE live in Cleveland, and one in Michigan. One of the daughters, Percy, is a successful teacher in the Cleveland Central High School

Mrs. TROWBRIDGE retained the vigor of her mind until the time of her death, which occurred in Hudson at the age of ninety years.

Sally RAWSON was born in Ravenna in 1816, and was married to N.D. CLARK in 1834. Her entire life was spent in this place where her death occurred in 1889. Mrs. CLARK had two daughters, both of whom preceded her to the world beyond. She was a genial, pleasant woman with a warm heart for all, especially the sick and needy. Mrs. CLARK loved society and so long as she was able, her home was open for the entertainment of friends.

Czarina RAWSON was born in Ravenna in 1820 and married Geo. HARPER in 1844. Mrs. HARPER still lives in Ravenna where the most of her life has been spent. Her memory being good, she has many entertaining reminiscences of the early days of our town.

Mary ABEL was born in 1770, and about the year 1803 came from Kent, Conn. With her husband, Moses SMITH, and their two daughters, to make their home in Ohio.

also a beautiful sheet of water. She reported the discovery and the lake was named in her honor.

MOTHER WARD'S POND.

It retained this name until a few years ago, when on account of the purity of its water it was selected as the reservoir of Ravenna's water supply and rechristened "Crystal Lake."

In 1802 David Jennings, with his wife Hannah (Wellman) Jennings, and their three sons, aged six, four and two years, emigrated to Ohio and settled in Ravenna Township.

Mrs. Jennings, making her home in the then unbroken wilderness, endured the many hardships of pioneer life.

Surrounded as she was by the dense forests, with plenty of wild animals and Indians near, she had to exercise great courage for herself and her children. Especially would this be necessary when her husband was absent from home as he was sometimes obliged to be, since many household supplies must be brought from Pennsylvania.

The Indians liked to take advantage of her when they came to buy corn. If she took up a short ear, they would place another on the end of it, and she dare not object, they, knowing her fear, would laugh among themselves and say, "that squaw is shy, shy."

Mrs. Jennings had six children whom she took great pride in training to be useful, respected citizens. She died in 1840.

Hannah H., daughter of Mrs. David Jennings was born in Ravenna in 1804, and was married to Schuyler Cutler in 1822.

Mrs. Cutler lived with her husband on a farm on the west line of the township where she died in 1835. She was the mother of six children. One of her daughters, Mrs. John Dodge, and a granddaughter, Mrs. J. H. Furry, are residing in our little city.

In 1815 Elliot Rawson came from Franklin County, Mass. and located on a tract of land one mile west of the court house.

His family consisted of a daughter and a son, with a second wife (Hannah Williams, sister of his first wife) whom he had married but a short time before.

The daughter, Hannah, a girl of seven, was bright and active, and although deprived of the many advantages that she to womanhood, she made the most of what knowledge she could obtain from the limited means within her reach.

Her father died when she was but a little over sixteen, which threw a great deal of responsibility upon her since her step-mother's health was far from good.

In the year of 1825, one month before she was seventeen she became Mrs. David Jennings, Jr.

She was a bright woman with great energy of character, never shirking any hardships which duty placed in her way. Her heart and home were always open, strangers and friends finding a welcome at all times, while a call from the sick or suffering was never unheeded.

In 1832 Elizabeth Knowlton came to Ravenna from Kennebec, Me., where she was born in 1813.

In 1833 she and Lewis Jennings were married and resided on the homestead with his parents. Although she did not have to endure the privations of the very early pioneer life, yet she has seen many changes in both city and country. Seven of her twelve children lived to maturity. Four of her daughters still reside in Ravenna, three at the old home, and one, Mrs. M. Gledhill, in the village. Mrs. Jennings died in 1895, on the farm where she and her husband first lived, and where his father reclaimed the land from an unbroken forest.

Miss Nancy A. Sapp was born in Maryland in 1810, and was married to Squire L. Jennings in 1833. At the time of her marriage she was living with her parents in Rootstown. The delightful air of hospitality which pervaded her home and her many, many kindly deeds are held in grateful memory by her friends. She had two children, a son, and a daughter, Ann Janette, who married Lorenzo Bosworth.

Betsy Trowbridge was born in Franklin County, Mass. in January, 1785. In 1807 she was united in marriage with Joseph Torrey. In 1810 they with their young family left their native hills and came to Ravenna. She endeavored, in spite of difficulties to give her children all possible advantages of education and refinement that could be obtained. The winter before Mrs. Torrey's death, which occurred in Cleveland at the age of ninety-nine years, she cut and sewed rags enough to make a carpet, which shows that she was physically as well as mentally vigorous.

Hannah Taylor was born in Franklin County, Mass. in 1788. Her parents moved to Phelps, N. Y., where in 1810 she was married to James T. Trowbridge. In 1833 they came to Ravenna with their family. She was a domestic woman, seldom leaving home, but her friends were warmly welcomed to her own fireside. Her three daughters lie in Maple Grove cemetery, Adaline, unmarried, Mrs. Wm. Bond and Mrs. Samuel Bloomer.

Sally Blakely was born in Genoa, N. Y. in January, 1797. She was married to Daniel Trowbridge in Phelps, N. Y. in 1818, and they in 1833 removed with their family of eight children to Ravenna. To them were born in Ohio three more children and only one of the eight daughters and three sons is now living in Ravenna. This daughter, Mrs. A. J. Jennings is residing on the farm where she and her husband first went to house-keeping, the farm on which Mr. Jennings was born. Mrs. Jennings wields a very facile pen and has kindly furnished the items for the Jennings, Trowbridge and Rawson families.

Four daughters of Mrs. Trowbridge live in Cleveland, and one in Michigan. One of the daughters, Percy, is a successful teacher in the Cleveland Central High School.

Mrs. Trowbridge retained the vigor of her mind until the time of her death, which occurred in Hudson at the age of ninety years.

Sally Rawson was born in Ravenna in 1816, and was married to N. D. Clark this place where her death occurred in 1889. Mrs. Clark had two daughters, both of whom preceded her to the world beyond. She was a genial, pleasant woman with a warm heart for all, especially the sick and needy. Mrs. Clark and so long as she was able, her home was open for the entertainment of friends.

LOVED SOCIETY

Czarina Rawson was born in Ravenna in 1820 and married Geo. Harper in 1844. Mrs. Harper still lives in Ravenna where the most of her life has been spent. Her memory being good, she has many entertaining reminiscences of the early days of our town.

Mary Abel was born in 1770, and about the year 1803 came from Kent, Conn. with her husband, Moses Smith, and their two daughters, to make their home in Ohio.

Mrs. Joel Thompson of Waterloo, Ind. says: "My grandmother, Mary Smith, was prompt and methodical in all things. In common with nearly everyone she worked up wool and flax to clothe her family. She would commence the work as soon as the sheep were sheared in the spring, and before winter the wool would be made into blankets and clothing for her family, with extra for possible needy ones. Her life was filled with a continuous round of home duties, and can only be of interest from a historical standpoint since it is representative of the lives of hundreds and thousands of noble women who laid the firm foundation for the beautiful superstructure which the women of today are raising.

"My mother, Samantha Smith" (Mrs. Richard McBride), continues Mrs. Thompson, "had for a pet a young deer which she kept for sometime, but it became so mischievous that grandfather was obliged to kill it.

"The school mother attended was, I think, the second one opened in the village and was taught by Miss Achsah Eggleston of Aurora. The building was a tiny log cabin with oiled paper for windows. Turkey quills supplied the pens, and puncheon boards laid on pegs in the wall were used for desks.

"Within a few years after her marriage

Indiana where they spent the remainder of their lives."

In the year 1812 Mrs. (Gen.) Samuel D. Harris, Sr. (Lucy S. Kent) came on horseback from her home in Middletown, Conn., carrying her baby Lucia in her arms. Mrs. Harris was not only intellectual and cultured, but was also an expert needle woman. One triumph of her skill was the making for her husband of one dozen ruffled cambric shirts with one needle. A specimen of her work which is still in the family is a table cloth of fine, beautiful linen.

Her daughter Lucia grew to womanhood in Ravenna, and was married to John Gillis of the firm of Gillis & Prettiss. Those who knew Mrs. Gillis remember her as a beautiful woman. She was especially fond of music and art, poetry and flowers. During her life she made a valuable collection of gems of poetry. Only one of her seven children is now living in Ravenna, Mrs. (Judge) Geo. F. Robinson.

Mrs. S. D. Harris, Jr. (Joanna Doty) came from Sharon, Conn. in 1837 and is still living in this place, a beautiful example of loving, cheerful devotion to husband, family and friends. Her love of flowers and her success in their culture is only one of her many charming traits of character.

In 1811 Miss Pamela Lewis, a native of Farmington, Conn. was married to Zenas Kent. The father of Miss Lewis was a Revolutionary veteran and also a carpenter and joiner, as were also both her husband and his father.

Mrs. Kent was a charming woman and one who possessed rare tact in the management of household and family affairs. She was mother of thirteen children, ten of whom lived to maturity and are known as men and women of spotless integrity.

The eldest daughter, Harriet Kent, married Charles Clapp, then a merchant of Ravenna. Some years after their marriage, Mr. Clapp becoming convinced that the Shaker faith was the only right one, made suitable provision for his wife and family, and joining that peculiar sect, became their Shaker Elder, while his wife subsequently settled in New York city. Of her he said to a friend but a short time before his death in 1891 or 1892, "I would not have you think it was for any fault of her who was my wife, that I did as I did. She was without a fault."

Mrs. Kent's son,

MARION KENT.

is well known in business circles throughout the country, his chief enterprise being the inauguration and completion of the A. & G. W. R. R. (now the Erie) through the state of Ohio.

Her four younger daughters who lived to maturity were, Eliza A., who became the wife of John Poag, a merchant of New York city. Emily was married to R. B. Dennis, Esq. of Cleveland; Frances became Mrs. Geo. W. Wells, and Amelia Mrs. J. W. Shively who was a surgeon in the U. S. army during the war of the Rebellion, now residing in Washington, D. C.

Maria L. Johnson was born in Mifflin, Penn. 1810. Her parents removed to Lancaster O., where in 1831 she was married to Geo. E. Robinson. In 1835 Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, with their baby boy, Alfred, moved to Ravenna. Mrs. Robinson was domestic in her tastes and very benevolent, eminently a keeper at home. But she was a typical pioneer woman, in the sense of being always ready to undertake any duty which came to her. Mr. Robinson's business took him often from home, but his wife was entirely capable of carrying on the home both outdoors and in the house. She was a fearless house woman, and beside her many beautiful, womanly traits possessed a talent for business which served her well, when as circumstances sometimes made it desirable, she bought or sold stock in her husband's absence. Mrs. Robinson had eight children. Her son Henry was the first soldier from Ravenna to lay down his life in the late war. Another son, Judge Geo. F. Robinson was captain in the army and was confined for months in Libby prison.

Three of the four daughters are living in this place, Emily, Mrs. H. W. Riddle; Elizabeth, Mrs. (General) T. F. Wilde; and Miss Franc Robinson. The youngest daughter, Mrs. A. E. Hermann, resides in Terre Haute, Ind.

Huldah Oviatt, who came to Ravenna from Goshen, Conn. was first married to a son of David Hudson, the founder of Hudson, O. After the death of Mr. Hudson, she was married to Daniel Lyman, who was at one time candidate for governor of Ohio.

Mrs. Lyman had one daughter, Laura, married to W. S. C. Otis. Mr. Otis was at the time of his marriage, a lawyer in Ravenna. They removed from here to Akron and finally to Cleveland, where Mrs. Otis still lives.

The marriage of Miss Lyman to Mr. Otis was the first ceremony of the kind performed by the Rev. E. E. Atwater. During his pastorate here, Rev. Atwater was himself married to Miss Rebecca Dana of New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Lyman died in 1832 and Mr. Lyman's second marriage was to Mrs. Hiram Walbridge, (whose maiden name was Lucy Ann Rose) of Canaan, Conn. Two more daughters came to the home, Mary Lyman (Hood) and Anna Lyman (Woodworth), both of whom reside in California.

Polly Burroughs came from Vermont to Ohio about the year 1825. She was married to Mr. Wm. Coolman, proprietor of the Globe Tavern, which stood on the site of the present Etna House. Mr. Coolman was occupied much of his time in the courthouse, and in consequence the management of the hotel fell largely to Mrs. Coolman. She is remembered as a woman with a marvelous capacity for work and a model housekeeper. Some of the beautiful and glasses which were used in their hotel are still in possession of the family.

Nor did Mrs. Coolman allow her household duties to entirely engross her mind, for she was a leader in social and intellectual circles. There were three sons and two daughters in the family. Her daughter Amelia was first married to Thomas Burgess, and after his death to John G. McBride.

Augusta Coolman was born in 1820. From her mother she inherited a talent for work and unlimited energy. She was married to H. Y. Beebe, and with her husband went to keeping house in the residence which is still standing on the northeast corner of Cleveland Ave. and Main St. The building had been erected for a store and was not yet completed when they first occupied it, but with their push and perseverance it was converted into a beautiful home.

Mrs. Beebe had a very fine voice and for many years sang in the Universalist choir of this place. She was also an invaluable member of the aid society, and was the one upon whom they depended to cut all the garments which they made.

Mrs. Camilla (King) Harmon, wife of Orrin Harmon was the eldest of eleven children of Dr. Robert King, who settled in Charleston, Portage County in 1826. She was born in Sandisfield, Mass. 1802, came to Portage County with her father and was married to Orrin Harmon at Ravenna, September, 1832. One time in welcoming a new neighbor, Mrs. Harmon said, "I'm very glad you are to be near us, but I don't go out very much and I probably won't come to see you unless you are sick, then I'll come." That was the keynote of her life; devotion to home and untiring ministrations to the sick and needy were her dearest joys. The memory of this quiet, unassuming, little woman is fragrant in the hearts of all who knew her.

Mrs. Perry Hazard Babcock (Cynthia Hickeys) came to Ravenna in 1818 from Granville, Mass. Mrs. Babcock was an intrepid horseback rider, and with her husband was accustomed to ride fifty miles over the hills from Granville to visit their relative, Oliver Hazard Perry, afterward Commodore Perry. She was a tireless knitter, one of her best pieces of work being a beautiful white quilt. Another kind of handiwork in which she excelled was embroidery, and her bed curtains were wrought with her own swift flying needle.

Mrs. Babcock had four sons and two daughters, all of whom settled in Ravenna.

Mary Collins came to this place as a teacher in 1811 from Hartford, Conn. She became acquainted with Almon Babcock who came to Portage County in 1810, the eldest son of Mrs. Perry H. Babcock, and they were married at her father's home in Rootstown, Christmas day, 1814. During the following year they erected the first brick house in this place (which was the second in the county) for a hotel, on the ground now occupied by the Opera House.

Her wedding gown was of white cambric, beautifully embroidered by her own hands. Among her many lovely traits of character she possessed the qualifications of an excellent nurse and

GEORGE SOULE

George<sup>1</sup> Soule, born in England probably between 1593 and 1600, died in Duxbury before 22 Jan. 1679 (O.S.) when his inventory was taken by Edward Southworth and Thomas Delano. The tentative dates for his birth are based on his signing of the Mayflower Compact in 1620 and his death in 1679. As a signer of the Compact he must have been twenty, the known age of Gilbert Winslow. Since a life span of eighty-five was rare in those days he was born probably not much earlier than 1593.

The wife whom he married probably in Plymouth before 1626 was Mary Bucket (?Becket) who arrived in Plymouth before 31 July 1623 aboard the Anne. She died in Duxbury in December 1676. She has not been identified.

Probably no other of the Pilgrim band has been so exhaustively researched as George Soule. Charles Edward Banks, himself a descendant of the Pilgrim, spent years attempting to determine the antecedents of his ancestor. Roland Soule tells us that "after studying all available American records he made a 'long sojourn' in England in 1922 and 1923 in an effort to determine the Soule parentage". In the chapter written by Banks for Gideon G. T. Ridlon's "Sole, Solly, Soule, Sowlee and Soulis", Banks had cited as the father of George Soule, Robert Soule of Eckingham whom, he reported, had three sons Thomas, Robert and George named in his will of 1612. Banks' conclusion was that George the youngest son, "answers best of all the candidates the demands of identification in point of time, locality and relationship to the Sole family which had contact with Governor Winslow in London and Worcestershire". However, later in the same chapter he stated that the parish records prior to 1612 had been lost but that "an examination of the years remaining show that a George Soule married in 1631 and that a Nathaniel Soule, presumably his son, was baptized three years later". This then disposed of George, son of Robert, since he could not have been the Pilgrim.

In recent years extensive searches have been made in English parish records but despite all these investigations the parentage and birthplace of George Soule are still undiscovered. A most interesting and thought provoking article by Roland P. Soule on a possible father for George Soule appeared in the Soule Kindred Newsletter for October 1978. The search still goes on.

George Soule joined, probably in London, a company of adventurers off to the New World. His status is clearly established as a "servant" to relatively wealthy Pilgrim Edward Winslow; also as a signer of the famed Mayflower Compact of 11 Nov. 1620, O. S. It appears logical, therefore, to assume that Winslow bore the cost of his passage to Plymouth aboard the Mayflower. The original New Plimoth Colony Records, William Bradford's "Of Plimoth Plantation, 1620-1647", Plymouth Registry of Deeds and Probates, Bristol County Registry of Deeds, Plymouth Town Records, Duxbury Town Records and other authoritative sources provide sufficient evidence upon which to base a comprehensive sketch of George Soule's life in New England. Unlike some of his colleagues, he never returned to his homeland. However, suffice to say that he became a relatively well-to-do leader, business man and office holder in Plymouth Colony. As early as July 1627 George Soule was one of a group of fifty-eight "Purchaser or Old Comers" who assumed Plymouth Colony's debt to "The Adventurers", the promoters and capitalists who financed the voyage of the Mayflower and other early ventures and expenses of the colony. In return the group received profitable trading concessions in Maine, at Cape Ann, on Buzzard's Bay and subsequently on the Connecticut River. The General Court voted 5 March 1639/40 to pay these "Purchasers or Old Comers" for the surrender of their patent. Existing land records show that he acquired extensive holdings in Duxbury, Dartmouth, Middleboro, Marshfield and Bridgewater but resided only in Plymouth and Duxbury or "Ducksburrow" as it was called originally.

On 27 Sept. 1642 he appeared before the General Court as one of two "Deputies" or representatives from Duxbury, Plymouth Colony having established representative government in 1639 after finding it no longer practicable to have all of the colonists participate as individuals. The representatives were limited to terms of one year and denied the right of succession so we find George Soule serving each alternate year for many years, with increasing assignments such as forming a committee 26 Oct. 1646 with Anthony Thatcher "to draw up an order concerning disorderly drinking of tobacco".

Early in 1637 the Pequot Indians "fell openly upon the English at Connecticut". In response to a plea for assistance, the Plymouth General Court agreed forthwith to send fifty men. George Soule volunteered for this service 7 June 1637 as one of 42 men under Lieutenant William Holmes and Reverend Thomas Prence as chaplain "but when they were ready to march ... they had word to stay; for the enemy was as good as vanquished and there would be no need." The Society of Colonial Wars recognizes the eligibility for membership of any descendant of George Soule by reason of this "service" which, strictly speaking, was not actually performed. An eye witness also has identified one "George Soule, Sr." as having occupied the fort at Middleboro for six weeks in 1675 during King Philip's War. Admitting that Pilgrim George Soule was an original proprietor of Middleboro, the disposal of his property there in 1668 and his advancing age, lend credibility to a theory that the member of the fort party was actually the Pilgrim's son George Soule (1639-1704).

The will of George Soule, probated in 1679, reads:

In the Name of God Amen

Soule was displeased with the amount of property given to his sister Patience and his displeasure came to the notice of his father for he delivered this caveat

The order of birth of the children of Pilgrim George Soule is not known. It is established that Zachariah was the first born; John was 75 years old in 1707;
George jr. was 34 years old in 1673; Patience's last child was born 1691; Elizabeth was in trouble in 1663; and Pilgrim George had but eight children as of

SECOND GENERATION

2 JOHN<sup>2</sup> SOULE (George<sup>1</sup>), b. Plymouth ca. 1632; d. Duxbury bef. 14 Nov. 1707. In a deposition date 8 March 1705/6, John Soule swore he was "about Seventy four years" of age.

He m. (1) prob. at Duxbury ca. 1654 REBECCA SIMMONS, dau. of Moses Simmons, d. prob. Duxbury between 1665 and 1668. By deed, dated 30 Dec. 1674, Moses Simmons in "consideration of a marriage heretofore consummated between John Soul of Duxbury and my eldest daughter, Rebecca" gave to John land in Middleboro.

He m. (2) prob. Duxbury ca. 1678 ESTHER (NASH) SAMPSON, dau. of Lt. Samuel Nash and the widow of Samuel Sampson, b. 6 March 1640; d. Duxbury 12 Sept. 1735 ae 95y 6m 6d.

John Soule died intestate and Esther Soul, widow, was appointed to administer his estate 14 Nov. 1707. His three daughters or their heirs proposed division of the residuary real estate amongst them since their father "in his lifetime settled all his sons portions in land by deed", and they, the daughters, received but one cow. The settlement was signed by John and Rachel Cobb, Edmond and Rebecca Weston and Adam Wright on behalf of his children born to his wife, Sarah deceased. G.E. Bowman (MD 8:184ff) identifies all the sons of John and abstracts the deeds of gift to these sons.
